

On this page

GCP Resources Creation

GCP Resources

This section is reserved for future documentation on GCP resources that may need to be created manually as part of the Pulse installation process.

Currently, no GCP resources require manual creation. All necessary infrastructure should be provisioned automatically by deployment scripts.

This page will be updated when manual steps are introduced.